THE WAR IN THE NORTH.

ARRIVAL OF THE PROVEEDOR.

TERRIBLE STATE OF CORRIENTES.

SINBAD'S DESPATCH.

On Sunday the Proveédor arrived in port, bringing dates from the seat of war to the 9th inst. The following is Sinbad's despatch:

Corrientes, May 9th.

Gentlemen.—Nothing worthy of note has occurred since the 2nd inst. Per Esmeralda you will receive from me a detailed account of what has transpired at the Paso de la Patria. To-day there has been a very heavy firing going on in that quarter all day; what may have been the amount of it you will be advised of per Esmeralda. This goes by Proveédor, which will leave in ten minutes. I was not advised of her departure until this moment. I send you the latest papers published in this place. Yours,

SINBAD.

The Corrientes papers at hand contain nothing save the most exaggerated accounts of the late battle. One editor states that the Paraguayan loss is over 3,000.

The City of Corrientes is converted into one large hospital, even in the churches are the wounded.

Every day guerrilla fighting goes on; the Paraguayans are in the jungles, behind the trees, under the leaves, in fact everywhere, and most annoying. The weather has been bad and more uncomfortable quarters for soldiers could hardly be selected.

The allied army has moved up and the distance between the contending armies is only a couple of squares. There is much difficulty found in victualling the troops. Whole regiments of soldiers on the Corrientes side of the river are occupied 13 hours in the day doing nothing but 'carnearing,' as the difficulties attending the crossing cattle are so great that it is found more convenient to kill the animals in Corrientes, and send the beef over in flats to Paraguay.

Lopez is not in Humaitá but encamped with the army, and it was currently rumoured that a pitched battle would ensue the day Tamandaré commenced shelling Humaitá.

The River Paraguay is staked about half a league below the fortress, and from some Paraguayan prisoners positive information has been received of the existence of torpedoes, Admiral Tamandaré is, therefore, busy putting on an apparatus to his ironclads, which he obtained from the States for the purpose of picking up these infernal machines; the apparatus in question has been invented in and tried successfully in the United States.

The following is Colonel Pallejas' description of the battle of the 2nd May, called the 'Battle of the Jungle.'

May 2. The night passed without any event of importance. The weather is getting much cooler, and at night it is quite chilly. Gen. Hornos, in making a reconnoitre this morning, fell in with a small body of the enemy, killing 20 and taking 2 prisoners; Col. Arredondo was along with Hornos and got slightly wounded. 230,000 cartouches, belonging to the Orientals, have been stored in a small house in Lopez's old encampment. The Commander-in-chief has purchased of the Correntinos some oxen which they took from the Paraguayans, and with these and a few others we are in a position to move, in the carts left by the enemy, the amunition necessary for a fight, which must take place the moment we advance. 1600 good ponchos have arrived for the Oriental troops. General Dn. Enrique Castro returns to Montevideo with 200 men, cavalry; Capt. Dn. A. Castro will command the rest, which will be crossed over as soon as possible. The great scarcity of horses here, and the numerous body of cavalry on foot, makes the commander-in-chief part with these men—we hope some of these days to be able to follow. The steamer Gen. Flores is now put on the line between here and Montevideo, which will prove a great convenience: parcels can now be sent safely, hitherto they have been nearly all lost. I had hoped to send by this mail news of a decisive battle which would indicate a prompt termination of the campaign, but, notwithstanding all Gen. Flores' remonstrances, he cannot get his allies to move on.

'Hardly' had I finished writing the foregoing, when, at 12 o'clock, a body of Paraguayans, 5000 or 6000 infantry and a large body of cavalry, came slap bang upon us, they killed our outposts and doubled up our troops. A part of the Oriental brigade formed in line and marched to meet the enemy. At the head of the Florida battalion I charged the infantry, a charge which deserves a page in Oriental history, they waited for me on foot, my regiment dashed right into the thickest of the enemy, but by a fatality, caused principally by the scandulous state of the ground we were fighting on, I was not supported, and my poor Florida men, surrounded by the enemy, fought heroically, until the centre advanced and took the enemy on my right flank, where they principally attacked me, the Paraguayans were then driven back to their own encampment, and the road was covered with dead bodies. Commander Castro, at the head of the 24th April, although wounded, held his post, joined his men with mine, and together we marched up to the enemy's batteries, accompanied by the valiant 'Garibaldians' in all the fight, even from the first charge. The 1st of the line and the 7th Brazilian regiment behaved with great bravery.

At 3 p.m. we formed on the enemy's old line. The three general commanders galloped along our front and ordered all the wounded, without distinction, to be removed and cared for. At 5 p.m. we returned to our encampment.

The loss of the enemy cannot be under 1000 killed and 2000 wounded, ours does not amount to 800 'hors de combat.'

My poor Florida men were the victims on this awful day: over half an hour they fought solely against the whole of the enemy, which they held in check, and even drove back; but this glorious affair cost them dearly: the first two companies had all the officers and sergeants 'hors de combat,' the remainder were decimated, though not so bad as the others. Of 27 officers only 10 have survived, and if I live and have survived this frightful day, it is because divine Providence protected me, it is really a miracle. 3 of the enemy's guns are in our possession and 2 flags, but the 4 Brazilian pieces were taken by the enemy, at least so I have heard.

As I have said, the loss of the Florida is 19 officers and 100 soldiers, of the 24th April 4 officers and 80 soldiers, of the Volunteers of Liberty 3 officers and 33 men, and of the Independencia 3 officers and 44 men. Gov. Flores had 2 horses killed, General Suares 1, en fein every one suffered more or less. Our own folly has been the cause of all this: Lopez saw we wouldn't come on, he, therefore, attacked us. If we had followed up to-day we might have finished Lopez, and probably this night have slept before Humaitá, but as we are short of beef and not yet prepared for a general movement, we were obliged to fall back. Now that I am safe and sound I salute all my friends, and I regret that the tears of the mother, the widow, and the orphan must blend with the joy for this great victory; these, and I believe even still heavier sacrifices, have to be made to terminate this war, which many fools believed at first was only a sort of military excursion (paseo militar). It is a 'paseo,' certainly, but bedewed with the blood of patriotic martyrs.

To-day the Esmeralda is due, she will bring us two days later, and a full account of the affair of the 9th inst.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The rains in the camp have been both copious and consecutive; from San Nicolas to Tandil we hear of nothing else but the falling torrents. The rivers are swollen, the lagunas small seas. In the north, owing to the undulation of the country, the water has not so much flooded the camp, but in the south the flood has followed the drought, the camp is one sea, and the following statement by a party who has just returned to town will fully acquaint our readers of the dangers of the Southern Railway in case of a very wet winter, such as 1855 and 1857: "I left town on last Sunday morning per first train for Chascomus, and I could not pass the Facia station owing to the laguna having risen in the night and flooded the railway-track. The earthworks were in some places completely washed away, and the passengers who wished to go on; had to do so in carts. Mr. Banfield, the talented Manager of the Company, was soon on the ground with peons to repair the damage, which is of no insignificant nature. The rains in the south have been very heavy; all the lagunas and rivers are flooded, and Samborombon is quite a sea." The bearer of this intelligence returned to town at 9 o'clock on Sunday night. As yet we have heard nothing from any of the gentlemen connected with the company, but we trust the damage to the line is not so much as it has seen represented.

Yesterday we despatched a heavy mail for England, per Galileo; we also forwarded 50 'handbooks,' which have been ordered from London by this packet. We hardly think, however, that the Galileo got away last night, owing to the heavy rain all day.

It was rumoured yesterday morning that another Brazilian transport with wounded from Corrientes had arrived in port. On inquiry we found this to be inexact.

A private letter from Havre states that all the River Plate wool in that market has been bought by speculators. The wool market is in a most excited state, 1450 bales were sold by auction at increased rates; and, upon the whole, it is believed that every shipment of wool from the Plate this year will leave a handsome profit.

Sunday although a wet day, was a busy day in town; the packet was in early, but owing to the bad weather both mails and passengers got wet. Capt. Curlewis was ashore before ten o'clock. The mails did not arrive at the Post Office until after 10 o'clock. Mr. Posadas was as usual at his post with all his clerks, and the letters and papers were sorted with the greatest despatch.

The Proveedor from Corrientes arrived before 12 o'clock; her advices were unimportant; 'Sinbad's' letter hints at another fight on the day the steamer left. To-day per Esmeralda, we shall learn full details.

A gentleman from one of the largest estancias in the Banda Oriental called on us yesterday to say that things look well this year for estancieros there, the lambing good, camps in splendid condition, and sheep fat. There have been no sales of sheep but good mestizos cannot be bought under 20 rls.

We have received a letter from an officer in the South respecting the Machado rebellion, and we extract the following paragraph:—The Machado business is not yet settled, but it will soon be arranged. Machado is an ignorant man, and therefore troublesome, but when he sees that the Government is decided he will soon conform to his duties. If he does not Comandante D. Alvaro Barros has force enough to compel him, but it is supposed that it will not be necessary. Every moment we expect to hear the news of Machado having surrendered his command.

The news per packet respecting Capt. Harrison's Steamer Co. is not to say favorable; the Capt. is at present in Liverpool, he finds great difficulty in the business as people button their pockets when the River Plate is talked about.

Respecting the extension of the Great Southern Railway to Dolores its appears to be all moonshine at present. The row between the Directors here and Governor Saavedra has caused a very unpleasant feeling, and in a private letter, we note, that the shareholders are watching to see when the Government will pay the interest due on the Northern Railway. Possibly when Messrs. Crawford and Rumball return, and the directors see that the road is doing a splendid business, we may have some chance of the much talked of extension.

Yesterday, as a Dutch barque was entering port, she ran foul of one of the wrecks lying in the harbour, and we suppose will be lost. Again we call the attention of the National Government to this scandalous neglect. The Port Captain, we understand, says that it is none of his business, and laughs at all our remarks. The Ministers are necessarily too busy with other matters to think about wrecks, the Congress men have not finished the preliminary business on the opening of the house, and the consequence is, that nothing can be done, not even if every vessel from Europe for the next three weeks was to come to grief. Why not blow up all these wrecks and thus clear the channel?

In Montevideo there has been great saluting and hoisting of flags on Rear Admiral the Hon. C. B. Elliott's promotion. He has hoisted his flag as Vice Admiral. We salute the gallant Admiral on his promotion, no officer in Her Majesty's Navy is more deserving.

The rain yesterday was so incessant in town that rapid rivers were in many of the streets. Right in front of the Bolsa the stream was wide, rapid and muddy, and at the corner a regular Paso de la Patria. A witty English clerk connected with a municipal foreign house has sent us a project or scheme for establishing ferries.

Yesterday we received the eighth Annual Report of the Post-Master-General of the Argentine Republic. It is got up with great care, and numbers no less than 135 pages. We shall review it in a few days. There is no branch of the public administration which has increased with such rapidity as the Post Office: the mails up the river for each steamer are now so heavy that they cannot fit in the Port Captain's falua, and a separate boat has to be got.

Don Rafael Rua, an old clerk in the Bank, has applied to the Government for a retiring pension: the Goveonment refers him to the Chambers on the ground that the House alone can give it. We believe the matter should rest exclusively with the Directors.

Yesterday the great Brazilian floating battery arrived. We have not as yet seen it, but hear that it is of the most peculiar construction and more effective against fortifications than the ironclads.

Yesterday we received from a special correspondent in New York a full and graphic account of the trial trip of the sister steamer of the Porteña, the Oriental, which took place in the Hudson River on the 24th of March last. Owing to the great length of the communication, we are compelled to hold it over until to morrow. It was really a very gay affair, and, as for the new steamer, judging of her by the description at hand, she is one of the finest boats ever built in the States. Along with the communication we received two letters, one for Mr. E. H. Folmar and Co., and the other for Dn. Alejandro Carrasco Albano, Chilian Legation. Our readers will, no doubt, be pleased to learn that our special correspondent in New York is no other than President Mitre's son, who speaks and writes English both fluently and correctly. Somehow or other the Argentine Republic is beginning to make a great noise both in Europe and the States. The trial trip of the Oriental caused great notice in New York, and was the talk of all the brokers and merchants in Wall-street.

Dr. Campillo, Minister of the Santa Fé Government, died suddenly on last Thursday morning. He was a man greatly respected and of high political influence.

We have not heard anything about the 'funcion' which was to have taken place at the Piedad Church. We suppose it did not take place, as it was stormy on Sunday as when Mr. Saturnino Unzue (who is one of the church committee) went to visit the Monadnock in the renowned George Wilks.

The Oriental Government has named Mr. J. V. Morcn, Consul at St. Thomas.

The Provincial Legislature was to have met yesterday, but we suppose, owing to the rain, there was no quorum. We hear that a bill, fixing the paper dollar at 20 to the patacon, is about to be introduced, and as the Government backs up the measure the bill will probably be passed.

An English gentleman who was compelled through charitable motives to visit the Carcel the other day, reports a most scandalous case of an Englishman named Browne, who was arrested two years ago on a charge of murder on the beach, and as yet has not been tried. Can such things be, etc., etc.?

IMPORTANT FROM ROSARIO.

TOWN GOING AHEAD.

THE KELLER CO.

BEEF PACKING &c.

For the past five months I have been an assiduous reader of the 'Standard,' which, you must already know, has become a welcome visitor to all Englishmen and North Americans in this province, and I find both elaborate and laconic communications from every quarter (camps not excepted) save Rosario. To thus, neglect a city which is rivalled only by the great metropolis, Buenos Ayres, is the initiation to false impressions abroad, and a palpable recreancy and oversight of our vitality and importance at home.

With this view I venture to notice, compendiously, a few of the passing events:—

For more than two months English men and North Americans have been pouring into our midst, not by one or two, but eight and ten at a time, until the hotels and private boarding-houses bordered so closely upon a second 'Babel' that many of the new comers were compelled to flee to camp. These strangers, I am happy to say, are a better class of representatives than some who arrived in the country earlier. The majority of them, with whom I have conversed, are gentlemen of more or less means, but better still, of talent and energy. Some have gone to the upper provinces, some to Frayle Muerto, others into the camp near the city, and a few unfortunate deluded ones have been lured away to the Gran Chaco in Mr. Perkin's expedition in search of mosquitoes, alligators, and uncivilized Indians, whilst a large proportion still remain in the city. If these importations continue, as they certainly will, the result will be, in Rosario, either an incubus of fruitless or inefectual industry or a powerful rivalry in business of all classes, the latter, of course, more probable. Already dilapidated buildings are being thrown down and spacious new edifices reared in their stead. At present it is absolutely necessary to observe some precaution in selecting side-walks to avoid falling bricks from the hands of the workmen above. So soon as these business-houses are complete, and the shelves artistically arranged and filled with new goods, the ladies are on hand both day and night to see who can find the richest and most captivating brocades, whilst the young gentlemen not unfrequently make the mistake of stepping in to enquire for hats or caps, which, to their utter surprise, (?) are 'kept in the next square.' Indeed, Rosario is becoming so gay that it is quite a privilege to witness the concourse of beauty and fashion that promenades the streets and assembles in the plaza each evening between the hours of four and six.

But just here I come to the pith or quintescence of this part of my subject, by assuring you that at no period since Rosario has been a town, have her theatre-going citizens enjoyed a similar amount of pleasure and interest as at the present time. Some eight days since we were surprised by the sudden arrival of the celebrated 'Keller Family,' who have been travelling for more than twenty-five years. They came to us from Chile, across the mountains; and for once Rosario is ahead of Buenos Ayres. Mr. Keller's expensive and scientific representions are not only unequalled, but altogether wonderful, and any description of them that I might be able to give would fall so far short of portraying with the slightest idea of correctness or justice, that I am forced to refrain from the otherwise pleasant task. Amongst these historical scenes is the 'Battle of the Amazons,' 'Queen of Flowers,' 'Famine,' 'Bacchus,' 'Cane and Abel,' 'La Gloria,' dedicated to President Mitre, 'Shower of Gold,' and the 'Crucifixion.' This last scene, which commands so much serious attention, has never been produced by any other than the 'Keller Family.' The various positions of Mr. Keller upon the cross, as well as the expressions of grief of Madame Keller and daughter, are calculated to melt the hardest heart to an almost uncontrollable degree of grief and sadness. The theatre has been filled each evening, and will be, during the sojourn of this interesting 'troupe' in Rosario. Mr. Keller well deserves his world-wide reputation, and as for the grace and beauty of Mrs. and Miss Keller, they will draw crowds wherever they appear. They go from here to Buenos Ayres, and when I bespeak for them that welcome and success they so richly merit, I but utter the sentiments of their numerous admirers in Rosario.

The Beef Packery near town is now in full blast, putting up an article of salt meat that can be shipped to any part of the world. I learn it is constantly receiving orders for both pickled and cured meat.

Every class of business is on the increase, and in a good deal less than one hundred years' time Rosario will challenge Buenos Ayres for a test either in trade or beauty.

In reply to your interrogatory relative to the numbers of the Gran Chaco expedition, I beg leave to state that the whole party, consisting of four, took their unexpected and sudden departure for Santa Fé, on the 3d inst., where they are to be joined by their leader, Mr. Perkins, who left here some three days since.

Very respectfully yours,

ENTERPRISE.

MORGAN'S BEEF Co.

GREAT DEMAND.

The beef business of our Company is now going ahead in great style; the demand for the article far exceeds the supply; our agent in Edinburgh says that he can easily sell before next Christmas '10,000 tons' of the beef, and mutton; if he can get it; all sales go off readily at 4d per lb. retail. The mutton is preferred to the beef, owing to the general condition of the animals the capones being so fat!

The following extract from the Grocer has been sent us for publication.

April 21, 1866.

On Thursday week we made one of a party of about seventy gentlemen who met together in Messrs. Keeling and Hunt's large sale-room at a luncheon consisting of South American beef, preserved by the process patented by Mr. Morgan, of the Royal College of Surgeons, Ireland, and several times referred to in these columns. The entertainment was not an imitation of the 'banquets' made out of jerked beef some months ago, which no doubt went far towards disappointing the consumers who desired cheap meat, and were told 'too much' in praise of the new food. Jerked beef we have always held to be good wholesome food, and far preferable to the inferior meat bought up by the poor from fourth-rate shops; and if too much praise is not bestowed upon it, prejudice will ultimately give way to large consumption.

Meat preserved by Mr. Morgan's process is, however, much superior to the best prepared specimen of imported meat we have seen. The joints served up at the luncheon were taken promiscuously from the bulk of a recent shipment, and simply boiled. The varieties consisted of boiled beef, boiled mutton, potted beef, and beef and mutton sandwiches. The dinner service consisted of a number of miscellaneous plates, dishes, knives and forks, and cruet bottles borrowed from a neighbouring tavern; and notwthstanding the rough and homely style in which the whole affair was conducted, the company, and ourselves among the number, ate heartily, and with a genuine relish.

Among those who appeared thoroughly pleased with the success of Mr. Morgan's process were,—T. Scott Robinson, Esq., the Purveyor in Chief; Captain Dowling, of the War Office; Sir W. Tyrone Power, K.C.B., Commissary-General, War Office; Mr.

Keeling; and Mr. George Warriner, late Inspector of Culinary Arrangements to the Army, who gave the invitations. Mr. Hadfield, of the Buenos Ayres Railway Company; Mr. Davis, of Adelaide, South Australia; Mr. A. Craig, of Mincing-lane; and Mr McColl, prince of preservers, were also present, and evinced much interest in the proceedings. The only portion of the business which approached anything like conventional formality was where Mr. Keeling, in a few well-chosen words, explained how that for years he had been doing all in his power to give effect to scientific researches, having for their object the providing of wholesome and cheap food for the working classes. For many years, he said, he had watched the progress of the discoveries, and assisted in their development, and now it appeared that the end was all but accomplished. The meat before the company was recommended as a food to be preferred by our soldiers to salt junk, and nature had provided unlimited supplies of it, which could be imported at from threepence to fourpence per pound retail. There was no doubt that the public were slightly prejudiced against any cheap food, more especially when the cooking of it involved extra trouble and additional utensils; therefore, the most effectual way to introduce this meat would be to establish cookshops where it could be retailed ready cooked, and in various attractive forms. Mr. Keeling hoped a joint-stock company would undertake the task. We hope so too; in the mean time, we see no reason why our friends the grocers should not continue the good work they commenced last year at our suggestion, and do all they can to spread the sale of preserved meat among the poor. The ravages of the cattle plague have already told seriously upon the small purses of the working classes, who will, whether the scourge continue or not, be glad to turn from the butcher to the grocer when prices become still higher.

Mr. Warriner, carving knife and fork in hand, spoke in the most hopeful terms of the ultimate benefit likely to arise from the increased consumption of imported meat. He also threw out some really practical suggestions as to a further improvement in the preparation and varieties of the Morgan preserved meat. Mutton hams, he said, might be dried and smoked, and a large consumption might also be found.

LATEST FROM MONTEVIDEO.

The steamer General Flores with the wounded arrived yesterday morning There was intense excitement at the Custom-house, and the mole was crowded with people, some, no doubt, there on an errand of mercy, but most of them attracted by sheer curiosity. So great was the crowd that it was with difficulty that the poor unfortunate wounded were carried out of the boat. Plenty were ready to gaze, but few extended a helping hand, the poor soldiers, however, appeared to bear up bravely through all their sufferings, but one could not help pitying them. It was nearly 4 o'clock in the afternoon before the General Flores had discharged her cargo. The number of wounded she is said to have brought down is 350—16 died on the passage.

The news of the defeat of the Paraguayans was received here on Wednesday morning; bells were kept ringing, rockets and fire crackers exploding all day, and bands of music patrolled the streets all night.

The mob attacked and pillaged the office of the 'Republicano,' smashing the press and scattering the type to the wind. I suppose the colorado party were in spirits and thought the news of the success of their arms over Paraguay an opportune occasion to vent their spleen on the Blanco editor of the 'Republicano.'

The Peruvian ironclads, accompanied by their transport, the ———, laden with coals, have left Maldonado; probably they intend cruising off the mouth of the river to intercept the Spanish merchant craft bound for and from the River Plate.

The Spaniards here are in great dread. The Commodore has given orders that none of the crews, either officers or men, of the ships under his command, remain on shore after dark.

A gentleman, just arrived from Maldonado, says that the Huascar is a very fine vessel, about 2,000 tons burden. The Independencia is smaller, but a good, wholesome-looking craft. The crews of the Spanish vessels they burnt have been landed at Maldonado.

The United States' sloop of war, Captain Almy, and the gunboat Kansas, leave to-day for Buenos Ayres. The Nipsic, Commander Blake, arrived yesterday, 10th, from Rio and St. Catherine's. A Brazilian double-turretted monitor, mounting 4 150 pounder Whitworth guns, has also arrived. She draws rather too much water to get up the river.

We are anxiously looking forward for the arrival of the mail, and I will send you some more mast-head communications.

The Brazilian transport, San Francisco, arrived yesterday: she towed down the mortar-boat, Pedro Alonzo.

May 12. I missed sending this by the Porteña last night, but as the Arno has arrived, I am able to give you some news. The Admiral has been promoted and hoisted his flag as Vice-Admiral to-day, all the ships saluting him as such. No one is named to supersede him, but it is supposed Rear-Admiral Dunlop will be the man. The 21 gun corvette Pearl is coming to this station.

O'TRIGGER ON THE WAR.

Campo Ancho, May 10, 1866.

"Hang out our banners on the outward wall:
The cry is still 'they come.'"

Dear Jim,

I did not write to you for the last month for I was in such a state of excitement in the daily and hourly expectation of hearing that the Paraguayans were entirely chawed up, that I got an attack of either 'delirious tremenduous' or Aurora Borealis in the head, so that my wife says my nervous system is materially injured; and when the news came that Lopez had sent down a batea, manned with twenty-four women and a big blunderbuss that nearly spificated the whole fleet, I took to my bed, and if it wasn't for Dr. Bagley's Hesperidina and an odd dose of Martell, I fear I would never have got over it. However, I am all right now, and on hearing that the fleet had crossed the river I bought a second-hand concertina and have been playing "Casta Diva" with all the variations, ever since. But I forgot you have'nt the advantage of a classical education. Sinbad has been up at Itapiru and sent the editors of the 'Standard' a bag to hold tobacco for paper cigars, a horn to keep a drop of the 'mountain dew' in, and a shell, which, when emptied, will make a splendid maté for the teetotal subscribers, with the barrel of a Minie rifle for a bombilla, and, be my own word, if the allies don't keep a sharp look out he'll be catchin' Lopez all on his own account, and the first thing they'll hear of him is that he's 'on view' in the 'Standard' museum, and Sinbad created either a duke or a bishop by Dom Pedro. He has also sent down a hat which is, I believe, to make a collection for Lopez now that he has got into difficulties. Madame Lynch, who, it appears, is the Juno of this Paraguayan Jupiter, seems determined to distinguish herself, but should she fall into the hands of the Rio Grande syrens, so graphically described by Sinbad, she will be judged by Lynch law, or, like Ulysses, nailed to the mast. However, she won't do Lopez much good, for, as the old proverb says, where there's a cow there's always a woman, and where there's a woman there's always mischief.

Yours respectively,

LUCIUS O'TRIGGER.

ANOTHER MURDER.

The Partido of Las Flores is doomed to initiate the accustomed camp tragedy in Dr. Alsina's governorship: a man named Thomas Donovan is said to have been murdered by a native at a 'pulperia' in the partido of Las Flores; this man was in the employment of Mr. Musgrave of the 'Chacabuco.' The murderer as usual escaped but the new Government will certainly have him arrested. Murderers must be made to feel that there is such a thing as law.

DICK.

MARKET REPORT OF RIVER PLATE PRODUCE.

New York, March 28, 1866.

Business continues decidedly dull in all its branches, which the present undefined policy of Congress, in regard to our national finances tends greatly to enhance. Money is easy and abundant, waiting for investment. The universal inactivity of business throws a large amount of surplus funds into the hands af bankers, the result of which has been a decline in the rate of interest on call loans to six per cent, and large amounts have been loaned during the past week at five per cent.

This month opened with a decided downward turn to gold, which tended to increase the prevailing uneasiness in all business circles Government securities are gradually appreciating in value, as indicated by the firmness of quotations in the face of the positive decline in gold from 137 to 125.

It is more than probable that some form of a Loan Bill will be passed during the present session of Congress, but the conviction is general, that independent of this, prices of merchandise must steadily move towards a specie value.

The market is extremely dull. Of River Plate Produee, hides usually are the last to give out, but now we have a large stock, and no demand.

Wet Salted Ox and Cow Aides—The receipts are; 2,000 from Rio Grande, and 3,145 from California. Sales are—1,400 R. G., 45 lbs. average at 9½ cents, gold of Kips, the only sale noticed is one lot of 600 River Plate, at 18 to 19 cents gold per lb.

Stock—In first hands is as follows: 85,000 River Plate, 24,000 Rio Grande, 27,000 California, 60,500 Orinoco, 28500 Central American and Mexican, 23,000 African Kips, 33,000 all other kinds Total, 281,000 hides.

Horse Hair—The importations are—From Buenos Ayres and Montevideo, 8 bales; from Rio Grande, 50 bales, 10 bags, 4 sacks. The sales comprise, during the month, 73 bales and 48 sacks of Rio Grande, at 22 cents; 18 bales Montevideo, ot 21½ and 22c.; 1 bale Buenos Ayres, and 2 bales Cordova, at 22 cts., all in gold. Total sales about 95,000 lbs.

The activity in this article, so remarkable during last month, continued into the first week of the present month, when the sales above noted were effected. Since then there has been no article of merchandise in the market heavier than Horse Hair, and there are no signs of improvement as yet.

Stock—In first ands, 9 bales Buenos Ayres, 23 bales Montevideo, 28 bales Cordova and San Louis, 16 bales Entre Rios, Rio Grande, none.

Skins—Goat—Importations are—14 bales, which were sold upon arrival at 58 cents currency. There are now none on hand, and an active inquiry exists concerning lots expected to arrive. Carpincho—The lot of 4,549, noted as 'just arrived,' at the date of our last circular, have been sold at a decline from previous prices. Deer—7 bales have been received. Buck—219 skins, by a late vessel, still remain unsold Mestiza Sheep—There as been one sale of 46 bales in Boston, at private terms; the arrivals are of two lots, via England, in all about 80 bales—Nutria—The first arrival since November of last year as been of 5 bales two of which were sold at $1 87½; 4 bales have been sold, to arrive at private terms.

Unwashed Common Entre Rios, Rosario, San Nicolas and Buenos Ayres Wools—The stock continues unchanged, and these wools appear to be entirely out of the market.

Washed Cordoba, Santiago, San Luis and Mendoza Wools—No receipt or sales.

Montevideo, Mestizona and R. Grande Wools.—No transactions to be noted.

Cape Wool—We have to record one Importation of 400 bales, and bales of about 1,200 bales, at from 35 to 43 cents per lb.; the latter price for superior small lots.

Unwashed Mestiza Wool—The large receipts of new wool are on a very dull market. Manufacturers are unwilling to purpose beyond their daily wants. Some are receiving large parcels direct from the river on their own account. The new wols continue to open satisfactorily, being of good staple, and well conditioned.

Notwithstanding the prospect of an advance in the duties, which will materially enhance the cost of the lower grades, but few are tempted to purchase.

ON 'CHANGE.

May 14, 1866.

Paper price of ounces	414½
Do. sovereigns	126½
First price of patacons,	25 90
Second,	26 —
Last	25 90

There was a great effort to bull the market today during the absenre of the bears, but though in the morning it was attended with some success, in the afternoon specie resumed its old level and closed flat at 25 90. There was a very thin attendance on 'Change, and most of the brokers were so drenched that the moment the bell tolled 2 o'clock they departed for their homes. The failures on Saturday were discussed, and it is feared that they will produce others.

The flooding of the Southern Railway near Chascomus was known on 'Change; one of our leading saladeristos had full particulars; it is feared that, as the rain has continued, all the earthworks on the Gandre estancia will be washed away: Mr. Banfield has an efficient gang of men at work repairing the damage.

There is positively no news about the loan, although it was thought by many that, as money has cheapened, Señor Riestra would launch it, but private advices go to show that the dispute with the Southern Railway and the non-payment of the guarantee to the shareholders of the Northern Railway has done River Plate credit much injury.

Capt. Harrison's Steamer Co. is not yet arranged, but he is sanguine that it will be ultimately carried out.

In the plazas and Barracas there was of course nothing done owing to the weather.

In National Bonds 18,000 at 39¾.

In Gas Shares no traasactions.

Paper noney still rules scarce, and first class bills done to-day at 1¾.

The Oriental, sister steamer to the Porteña, made her trial trip on the 24th of March in New York Bay. She may be expected shortly.

On Thursday night another financial conference, it is said, will take place between Messrs. Rom and Cerro.

SAVINGS BANK.

BANK MAUA AND CO.

No. 103 Calle de Cangallo,
BUENOS AYRES.

The immense advantages of Accounts Current are now so generally felt and appreciated in the two great emporiums of the River Plate, Montevideo and Buenos Ayres, that there are very few Merchants who fail to keep one at the bank in which they place the most confidence.

The Bank of Mauá and Co. in Montevideo has already provided for the working classes in that city a safe and profitable depositary for their savings.

The sums deposited in that most important institution are daily increasing, and already reach a very large amount.

These advantages have not hitherto been enjoyed in this city by an immense number of clerks, artisans, working men, and servants of all classes and conditions, who are equally interested in putting their savings out at interest, thus providing themselves with a reserve fund in case of need, sickness, or old age, instead of spending them in the immoral gambling, in lotteries, and other frivolities.

The Bank of Mauá and Co. of this city, following the noble example of their firm in Montevideo, now offer the same facilities in this city, and will open a Savings Bank at No. 103 Calle Cangallo, from Nine a.m till Three p.m on Week Days, and on Sundays and Holidays from Ten a.m. to Twelve m., for the reception of the savings of the classes already mentioned.

The Bank will deliver to each depositor a pass book, in which will be entered the amount deposited and withdrawn.

The depositor is permitted at any time to withdraw the whole or part of the sum deposited; in the former case the interest will be calculated up to date.

The Bank of Mauá and Co. is sufficiently known to the Public by the benefit derived from the course of its operations, which are regulated on the strictest and soundest principles, and always directed to promote the general welfare.

The Bank of Mauá and Co. are also persuaded that this new branch of their business will render immense service to the working classes of Buenos Ayres and its neighbourhood.

Buenos Ayres, September 19, 1863.

P.p. Mauá and Co.
WILLIAM LESLIE

CONDITIONS.

Second—The interest allowed is six per cent. (6 p %) per annum, which is liquidated ever six months.

Third—The depositors can at any time retire the whole or part of the money deposited.

Fourth—Once the money deposited exceeds twenty-five thousand dollars curreney, or one thousand dollars silver, the depositor, if he wishes, can open an account current, according to the rules established by the Bank.

Fifth—In case the depositor loses his pass book, it can be replaced by another on paying twelve dollars currency, and advertising the loss in the public newspapers.
